

Hawk Migration Association of North America's First Annual International Hawk Migration Week

September 20-28, 2014

HMANA invites you to join in celebrating the annual spectacle of fall raptor migration!

The purpose of International Hawk Migration Week (IHMW) is to raise awareness of hawks, hawk migration and the HMANA network of sites that count hawks.

All watchsites and raptor enthusiasts from across North America and beyond are encouraged to participate. You can choose to do so in a number of ways!

1. Submit your daily data to HawkCount during this week.
2. Participate in a "Big Day".
3. Help reach more hawkwatchers! Hold a HMANA membership drive at your watchsite.
4. Host a hawkwatching festival.
5. Hold an identification workshop
6. Choose to sponsor a watchsite on HawkCount.org.

Following the week of September 20-28, we will release a report with the overall number of species and raptors counted which will show the extent of the migration occurring during that time!

For more information on how to take part, please visit www.hmana.org or contact Julie Brown at brown@hmana.org.
