

International Hawk Migration Week 2014 Participants

Carter Hill, NH – Phil Brown

Carter Hill will be submitting their hawk counts, displaying a banner for IHMW, recruiting new HMANA members, and holding a Raptor ID Workshop on September 19.

Pack Monadnock, NH – Phil Brown

Pack Monadnock will be submitting their hawk counts, displaying a banner for IHMW, recruiting new HMANA members, and participating in a “Big Day”

Hawk Ridge Bird Observatory, MN – Janelle Long

Hawk Ridge will be submitting their hawk counts, displaying a banner for IHMW, recruiting new HMANA members, and holding their annual Hawk Weekend Festival from September 19-21.

Militia Hill, PA – Rich Conroy

Militia Hill will be submitting their hawk counts, recruiting new HMANA members, and holding a Raptor ID Workshop.

Mount Magazine, AR – Don Simons

Mount Magazine will be submitting their hawk counts and holding a Migration Celebration on September 27. See press release.

Detroit River Hawk Watch, IL – Greg Norwood

Detroit River Hawk Watch will be submitting their hawk counts, displaying a banner for IHMW, recruiting new HMANA members, holding a festival and sponsoring their site on HawkCount.org.

Hawk Mountain, PA – Laurie Goodrich

Hawk Mountain will be submitting their hawk counts, displaying a banner for IHMW, and sponsoring their site on HawkCount.org.

Cooper, ME – Karen Holmes

Cooper Hawk Watch will be submitting their hawk counts.

Hanging Rock Tower, WV – Brian Hirt

Hanging Rock Tower will be submitting their counts, hold a membership drive, and will have a festival on Saturday, September 20, 2014 which will include a Raptor ID presentation, live birds of prey demo by Three Rivers Avian Center from Brooks, WV and guided hike to hawkwatch site.

Clarry Hill, ME – Thom McCullough

Clarry Hill will be submitting their hawk counts.

Kittatinny Mountain, PA – Giselle Smisko

Kittatinny Mountain will be submitting their counts and holding a Raptor ID program on Sunday, September 21. See press release.

Bethany Hawk Watch, MN – Chat Heins

Bethan Hawk Watch will be submitting their counts, displaying a banner and recruiting new members. They also plan to have a contest to see how many raptors can be counted during IHMW.

Scott's Mountain and State Line Lookout, NJ – David Dean

David will be displaying a banner and recruiting new members at both sites.

Hawk Watch International (HWI) sites - Dave Olyear

Chelan Ridge, WA

Bonney Butte, OR

Commissary Ridge, WY

Goshute Mountains, NV

Yaki & Lipan Points, AZ (Grand Canyon Park)

Manzano Mountains, NM

Hazel Bazemore Park/Corpus Christi site

HWI will post daily counts from all sites to Hawkcount.org. They are also promoting IHMW in newsletter, social media, and website.

HWI will be hosting hawk watching field trips and a festival:

1) Celebration of Flight festival Sept. 26-28 at Hazel Bazemore Park migration site: This event will include free activities, education programs, hawk watching.

2) Raptor Watch Day, Sept 27 at the Squaw Peak Lookout in Orem, UT: There will be a day-long hawkatching field trip in partnership with the Utah Division of Wildlife Resources. HWI will have education birds at the event, and will have some rehab birds to release. Feature presenter will be Jerry Liguori and other HWI staff providing education presentations.

3) Wellsville Mountains hawkwatch field trip, Sept 28 in partnership with Bridgerland Audubon will hold a day-long hike and hawkwatch field trip to HWI historic Wellsville site in Logan, UT. This will feature Jerry Liguori and Bridgerland folk leading the trip and providing education presentations.